

Sisters and Brothers,

The COVID-19 positive diagnosis of postal employees is spiking upward as reflected in the chart below. This is a reminder that we need to be diligent. We must practice social distancing, we must wear masks, practice good hygiene, and remember that the pandemic is not over. We also must hold management accountable and ensure they are enforcing the policies in place to protect all employees from the spread of COVID-19. Please disseminate.

